

7725 Old
Georgetown
Road

The Woodmont
Triangle
“Petri dish”

Award application
16 June 2008

The Washington
Smart
Growth
Alliance

The Hellman Company, inc.

Creative development since 1976

202 841-1944 Jay.Hellman@alum.MIT.edu
www.VirtualAdjacency.com

1	Urgent Plea to improve the Transfer of Density regulations prep for Marlene Michaelson (Council) & John Carter (m-ncppc)
2	The reason you did not appreciate the singular quality of the Positano building : e-mail to Marlene Michaelson (Council)
3	Mal Rivkin, AICP to M-NCPPC Chairman Royce Hanson Individual buildings are NOT “the project”: the Woodmont Triangle is.
4	Building Height Pros + Cons: 4a) narrative; 4b) numbers
5	numbers analysis: Density Transfer Council error Preserving and improving some existing buildings is critical.
6	6a) Public Cost of on-site Amenity is 4x private cost; 6b) Veterans Park should be the Town Square
7	Aerial photo: The “project” in virtual earth
8	Massing model: multiple bldgs “Average height” is 107’ (8) Ave Height of 5 bldgs on Fairmont a2c.pdf)
9	Photos & concept dwgs: Fairmont Avenue — Before and After
10	Deal Summary spreadsheet: existing buildings contribute to Amenity Fund and invest in improving themselves
11	Green Roof Facts. David Honza, Honza Group Incorporated
12	Architectural dwgs: 12a) First floor without Garage entry 12b) First floor with Garage entry instead of RETAIL
13	Architectural dwg: Typical office floor fronts on all 4 sides; windows for all (many can open!); balconies;
14	Riding that train, Feeling much pain. Jen Chaney, Gazette
15	Party’s over in Montgomery Washington DC Examiner
16	County’s dirty little secret. Nancy Floreen, Gazette
17	A Public Arbiter of Good Design. Roger Lewis, Washington Post, Shaping the City column 5jan08
18	There ‘s nothing sacred about the building height limit. Roger Lewis, Washington Post, Shaping the City column 26may07
19	Region’s Parks are Source of Pride, but Can There Be Too Much Green. Roger Lewis, Washington Post, Shaping the City column 7jul07
20	Reality Check: Future Growth Likely to Transcend Tabletop Solutions. Roger Lewis, Washington Post, Shaping the City column 19feb05
21	Virtual Adjacency and the Meaning of “Place.” Jay Hellman lecture Catholic University Law School: www.virtualadjacency.com for webcast and slides.
22	Trend Summary/The Hellman Transform: Technology & R.E.
23	Harvard Int’l Review: The Future of Urbanization How Teletechnology is Shaping a New Urban Order, N.J. Slabbert, Jun06
24	ULI Urban Land Institute article Telecommunities (May 2005)
25	JJH e-mail to Council and M-NCPPC re Mont Cnty Healthy & Sustainable communities workshop (to be held 25, 26 June 2008)